Dear Emily,

I'm writing to tell you about my school trip to Kazan. It is one of the oldest cities in Russia, and I was impressed by how modern and historical it is at the same time.

On the first day we visited the Kazan Kremlin. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site with beautiful white walls, old towers, and a wonderful mosque inside. From the walls of the Kremlin we saw the river and the whole city. Our guide explained the history of the place, and it was very interesting. I took many photos of the towers and the mosque to show my family.

The next day we went to the Temple of All Religions. It's a colourful building that looks like a mixture of different churches, mosques, and temples. It doesn't work as a religious place, but it shows that people of different cultures can live together peacefully. The guide told us that it was built by a local architect who wanted to unite different cultures in one building.

We also had time to walk in the streets of Kazan. I liked Bauman Street best. There were many shops, cafés, and musicians playing cheerful music. I bought some souvenirs for my family and tried chak-chak, a traditional sweet made of honey and dough. In the evening we went to the theatre, where we watched a play in Russian with English subtitles. It was a new experience for me.

I really enjoyed this trip, and I think Kazan is a city worth visiting.

Best wishes,

Olga

Questions:

1. The Temple of All Religions.
2. The river and the city.
3. The musicians.
4. A shopping street.

B. What is special about the Temple of All Religions?

1. It is a working mosque.
2. It combines many styles.
3. It is the oldest temple.
4. It is a place for concerts.

C. What did the guide say about the Temple?

1. It was built by a foreign architect.
2. It is used as a real church.
3. It was created to unite cultures.
4. It is the tallest building in Kazan.

D. What is Bauman Street famous for?

1. Its shops and cafés.
2. Its history.
3. Its old towers.
4. Its churches.

E. What traditional food did Olga try?

1. Borscht.
2. Pelmeni.
3. Chak-chak.

Dear Ben,

Last week my class went on a trip to St. Petersburg. I had always dreamed of visiting this city, and it was even more beautiful than I expected.

On the first day we visited the Hermitage Museum. It is one of the largest museums in the world. We walked through endless halls full of paintings, sculptures, and historical objects. I especially liked the works of Rembrandt and Leonardo da Vinci. Our guide told us that if you spent just one minute looking at each exhibit, it would take more than ten years to see everything!

The next day we went on a boat trip along the rivers and canals. St. Petersburg is sometimes called “the Venice of the North” because of its many bridges and waterways. From the boat we saw palaces, cathedrals, and monuments. The city looked fantastic in the evening light.

On the last day we visited Peterhof, the famous palace and park near the city. The fountains there are wonderful, especially the Grand Cascade. I took so many photos! I also bought some postcards for my friends.

The trip was unforgettable. I learned a lot about Russian history and culture, and I hope to return to St. Petersburg again one day.

Best wishes,

Anna

Questions:

A. What museum did Anna visit on the first day?

1. The Louvre.

2. The British Museum.
3. The Hermitage.
4. The Kremlin Museum.

B. What did the guide say about the Hermitage?

1. It is the oldest museum in the world.
2. It would take years to see everything.
3. It has no paintings.
4. It was built in the 20th century.

C. Why is St. Petersburg called “the Venice of the North”?

1. Because of its boats.
2. Because of its rivers and canals.
3. Because of its history.
4. Because it is in Italy.

D. What was Anna’s favourite part of Peterhof?

1. The fountains.
2. The museum.
3. The souvenirs.
4. The cathedral.

E. What did Anna buy during the trip?

1. A painting.
2. Postcards.
3. Books.

Dear Kate,

I want to tell you about my winter holidays in Finland. It was my first time in this country, and it was wonderful.

We stayed in a small wooden house in the forest. It looked like something from a fairy tale, surrounded by snow-covered trees. Every morning we went skiing. At first it was difficult, but then I learned to ski quite well. My father even taught me some tricks!

One day we visited Santa Claus Village. It is a place where you can meet Santa, take photos with reindeer, and send letters from his official post office. I sent you a postcard from there — I hope you get it soon!

In the evenings we often sat by the fireplace. We drank hot chocolate, played board games, and talked. One night we went outside to watch the Northern Lights. It was the most beautiful thing I have ever seen — the sky was full of green and purple colours.

The food was also interesting. I tried salmon soup and different kinds of bread. I really enjoyed my holiday in Finland, and I want to go there again next winter.

Best wishes,
Olga

Questions:

A. Where did Olga stay in Finland?

1. In a hotel in the city.
2. In a small wooden house.

Dear Mark,

I've just returned from my summer holidays in London. It was my first time in the UK, and I was really excited.

On the first day we visited the Tower of London. Our guide told us many interesting stories about kings, queens, and prisoners. We saw the Crown Jewels and the famous ravens. They say that if the ravens leave the Tower, the kingdom will fall!

The next day we went to the British Museum. It was huge, and we couldn't see everything. My favourite part was the Ancient Egypt collection. I was amazed by the mummies and the pyramids' history. After that, we walked along Oxford Street, where we did some shopping and tried traditional English fish and chips.

One of the best days was when we went to Greenwich. We stood on the Prime Meridian line, with one foot in the eastern hemisphere and the other in the western. We also visited the observatory and learned a lot about time and navigation.

In the evenings we often walked by the River Thames and admired the lights of the city. I took many photos of the London Eye and Big Ben. It was an unforgettable holiday, and I hope to visit London again soon.

Best wishes,

Sasha

Questions:

A. What legend did the guide tell about the Tower of London?

1. If the ravens leave, the kingdom will fall.

2. If the guards leave, the king will be in danger.
3. If the jewels are stolen, the Tower will close.
4. If the bridge falls, the city will disappear.

B. What was Sasha's favourite part of the British Museum?

1. The Roman statues.
2. The Ancient Egypt collection.
3. The paintings gallery.
4. The library.

C. What food did Sasha try in London?

1. Pizza.
2. Fish and chips.
3. Burgers.
4. Soup.

D. Where did Sasha stand with one foot in the east and the other in the west?

1. In the British Museum.
2. On Oxford Street.
3. At Greenwich.
4. At the Tower of London.

E. What did Sasha photograph in the evenings?

Dear Tom,

I want to tell you about my weekend trip to Moscow. It was short but very exciting.

On Saturday morning we visited Red Square. It was amazing to stand in the middle of such a famous place. We saw St. Basil's Cathedral with its colourful domes, the State Historical Museum, and the Kremlin walls. I took a lot of photos.

After that, we went to the Tretyakov Gallery. It has one of the best collections of Russian art. My favourite painting was by Ivan Shishkin — a beautiful picture of a forest. The gallery was quite crowded, but I enjoyed it a lot.

On Sunday we went to Moscow Metro. I know it sounds strange, but it is like an underground museum. Some stations are decorated with mosaics, statues, and chandeliers. Our guide explained the history of the metro and showed us the most famous stations.

In the evening we went to Arbat Street, where there were many artists and souvenir shops. I bought a matryoshka doll for my sister. We also had dinner in a traditional restaurant and tried borscht and pancakes with jam.

I think Moscow is a great city with so many things to see. I hope to return there one day!

Best wishes,
Anna

C. What was Anna's favourite painting?

1. A portrait.
2. A picture of a forest.
3. A battle scene.
4. A city view.

D. What is special about Moscow Metro?

1. It has modern trains.
2. It is like an underground museum.
3. It is very small.
4. It is free for tourists.

E. What did Anna buy for her sister?

Dear Emily,

I'd like to tell you about my holiday in Italy. It was my dream to visit Rome, the capital, and I finally did it this summer.

The first thing we visited was the Colosseum. Standing in front of this enormous building, I imagined the gladiators fighting inside almost two thousand years ago. Our guide told us many stories about Roman emperors and the life of people in those times.

Another unforgettable place was the Vatican. We visited St. Peter's Basilica, which is one of the most beautiful churches in the world. Inside we saw wonderful paintings, sculptures, and even climbed to the top of the dome to see the whole city below.

One day we walked along the narrow streets of Trastevere, a district full of old houses, small shops, and cafés. It was very atmospheric, and we tried real Italian pizza there. In the evenings we often sat at the Spanish Steps and watched people from all over the world.

Rome is not only history — it is a very lively and modern city too. I enjoyed the fashion shops, the music in the streets, and the friendly people. This trip gave me so many memories, and I hope to go back to Italy again.

Best wishes,

Anna

C. What did Anna do in Trastevere?

1. Bought souvenirs.
2. Saw gladiators.
3. Ate Italian pizza.
4. Watched a play.

D. Where did she sit in the evenings?

1. In front of the Colosseum.
2. On the Spanish Steps.
3. In the Vatican.
4. In a café.

E. What does Anna say about Rome?

1. It is only about history.
2. It is lively and modern as well.

Dear Ben,

I want to tell you about my trip to Germany last spring. We spent a week in Berlin, and I enjoyed every day.

We visited the Brandenburg Gate, which is one of the main symbols of the city. It was built more than 200 years ago, and it has seen a lot of history. We also went to the Berlin Wall Memorial, where we learned about the division of the city during the Cold War. It was very impressive and a little sad.

Another day we visited the Museum Island. It is a group of five famous museums located on the river Spree. I especially liked the Pergamon Museum, which has a huge collection of ancient architecture and art. It was amazing to see buildings from Ancient Greece inside the museum halls.

Berlin is also a very modern city. We walked along Kurfürstendamm, a big street with many shops and cafés. In the evenings we tried traditional German food, such as sausages and pretzels. I also noticed how many bicycles there were — people use them everywhere.

I think Berlin is a city where history and modern life exist together. It was a great trip, and I hope to visit Germany again.

Best wishes,

Olga

Dear Emma,

I'd like to tell you about my trip to Paris last autumn. It was a dream come true for me, because I had always wanted to see the Eiffel Tower.

On the first day we walked along the River Seine. We saw many bridges, bookshops, and street artists. In the evening we went up the Eiffel Tower. The view of the city with its lights was unforgettable.

The next day we visited the Louvre Museum. It is one of the biggest museums in the world. Of course, I wanted to see the Mona Lisa, but there were also many other wonderful works of art. Our guide told us interesting facts about French history and culture.

Another day we went to Notre-Dame Cathedral. Although it was partly under reconstruction, it was still beautiful. Afterwards we had lunch in a small café, where I tried real French croissants. In the evening we watched people dancing near the river — it was so romantic!

Paris is not only about famous monuments. I enjoyed just walking in the streets, listening to the music, and feeling the special atmosphere of the city. It is a place where art, history, and modern life all come together.

Best wishes,

Anna

Dear Daniel,

I want to tell you about my holiday in Greece. We spent a week on the island of Crete, and it was an amazing experience.

On the first day we went to the beach. The water was warm and clear, and I swam for hours. We also tried snorkelling and saw colourful fish. In the evening we watched the sunset from a small café near the sea.

Another day we visited Knossos, the ancient palace of the Minoan civilisation. It was fascinating to walk among the ruins and imagine how people lived thousands of years ago. Our guide told us the legend of the Minotaur, the monster that lived in the labyrinth. I had read about it before, but it was different to hear the story right at the place.

We also explored the mountains. The road was narrow, but the views were incredible — high cliffs, olive trees, and small villages with white houses. People were very friendly, and they invited us to taste local food. I especially liked Greek salad with tomatoes, olives, and cheese.

On the last day we took a boat trip to a small island nearby. The water was so blue that it looked like a postcard. I think Crete is a wonderful place with a mix of nature, history, and legends.

Best wishes,
Olga

Questions:

2. About the Minotaur.
3. About the Trojan horse.
4. About Hercules.

C. What did Olga see in the mountains?

1. Rivers and deserts.
2. Olive trees and villages.
3. Skyscrapers.
4. Volcanoes.

D. What food did she like best?

1. Pizza.
2. Salad with tomatoes, olives, and cheese.
3. Soup with meat.
4. Ice cream.

E. How does Olga describe Crete?

1. A boring island.
2. Only beaches.
3. A mix of nature, history, and legends.
4. Just modern cities.

Dear Kate,

I have just returned from a wonderful trip to Spain. We spent a week in Barcelona, a city that combines history, art, and the sea.

On the first day we walked along La Rambla, the most famous street in the city. It was full of shops, cafés, and street performers. I bought some small souvenirs and enjoyed watching the people. In the evening we went to the beach, where many locals were swimming even in October!

The next day we visited Sagrada Familia, the famous church designed by the architect Antoni Gaudí. It is still not finished, but it already looks like something from another world. Our guide explained how long it has been under construction — more than one hundred years!

Another highlight was Park Güell, also designed by Gaudí. It was colourful and full of mosaics. From the top of the park we saw the whole city and the sea beyond.

In the evenings we often had dinner in small restaurants, where I tried traditional Spanish dishes like paella and tapas. The food was delicious. I also noticed that people in Barcelona like eating late — sometimes restaurants were full at 10 pm!

I think Barcelona is a city of contrasts: old Gothic buildings, modern shops, and the Mediterranean Sea. It is a place where everyone can find something to enjoy.

Best wishes,

Olga
