A decorative border surrounds the central text. At the top, there is an accordion with red and blue floral patterns, flanked by wheat stalks, red berries, and blue and white daisies. On the right, a balalaika is visible. The bottom border features a large, intricate star-shaped folk ornament (shamanka) in the center, surrounded by more wheat, berries, and flowers. A ribbon with the Russian tricolor (white, blue, and red) waves across the bottom. Several musical notes are scattered throughout the border.

A decorative border surrounds the central text. It features the Russian flag (white, blue, and red horizontal stripes) in a wavy pattern. Interspersed with the flag are golden wheat stalks, green leaves, red berries, and musical instruments: two balalaikas with black bodies and red and gold patterns, a golden treble clef, and several golden musical notes. A golden flute is also visible on the right side.
